

AMENDMENTS TO THE SPECIFICATION

Please replace the paragraph on page 7 from line 17 to line 22 (paragraph [0027]) with the following paragraph:

Camu camu grows in the fluvial wetlands in the tropical rain forest in the Central and South America, and is a bush of 2 to 3 m tall with red fruits of 2 to 3 cm in diameter. The camu camu fruit is known to be rich in vitamin C, but the camu camu seeds are substantially free of vitamin C, so that the ~~seeds have hardly found use~~ seeds are rarely used and are therefore discarded.